

Terri Newton is the founder and CEO of Childhood Autism Services (CAS) and has spent her entire career working with children diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder and other developmental disabilities. It is her passion to support the Autism community and their needs by employing evidenced-based practices and support services. CAS has been providing services to children and their families in the greater Omaha area since August, 2011.